'OLIVER OSBORNE' IDENTIFIED BY FIVE; JAMES W. SAYING: 'I'M GLAD TO SEE YOU BACK'

Lawyer, His Wife, Partner and Two Others Recognize the Prisoner.

EASILY PICK HIM IN LINE.

Rae Tanzer May Not Confront Prisoner Until Perjury Trial Comes Up.

Five persons, lawyer James W. Osborne, Mrs. Osborne, Edwin W. Wilcox, Mr. Osborne's partner, W. J. Kitchen, former proprietor of the Plainfield (N. J.) hotel in which Rae Tanzer charged James W. Osborne, spent a Sunday with her and Miss Rose Helen Kayser, friend of Charles H. Wax in the Federal Building today. They successively identified Wax as the man who called on Mr. and Mrs. Osborne and told them he had been making love to Rae Tanzer under the name of "Oliver Osborne," as the man who had been at the Plainfield hotel with Miss Tanzer and as the man who, under the name of "Charles H. Raymond, Assistant United States District Attorney," swindled Miss Kayser.

Miss Kayser was the last visitor let into the room where Wax was waiting, among a score of other men of various ages and sizes, was waiting to be picked out. Her eyes filled with tears when they rested on his and she went to him, put her hand on his sleeve and said in a broken voice: "I am terribly sorry for you."

Then she turned and hurried to her elderly aunt, waiting for her in the doorway, and cried aloud: "There's no mistake, and oh, dear, he is just as handsome as ever."

"CERTAIN THIS IS THE MAN," DECLARES KITCHEN.

Kitchen looked every face in the room over carefully before he called Assistant District Attorney Roger S. Wood to Wax and said: "I am certain this is the man. He came to the Kensington Hotel with the Tanzer girl and registered in my presence and a moment later he appeared in the lobby and talked to me about real estate. He got away without paying the bill."

When Kitchen turned back to "Oliver," the latter, looking a little puzzled, asked: "Say, where do you come in? Are you the hotel keeper from Jersey?"

The two talked for some time. Each reminded the other of forgotten bits of the conversation which preceded "Oliver's" informal departure from the hotel. Then Wax identified the words "Oliver Osborne" in the hotel register as his handwriting.

The meeting of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne and Mr. Wilcox with "Oliver" earlier in the day, in the room adjoining the office of United States Attorney Marshall, was like a hilarious reunion of old friends.

JAMES W. ENTHUSIASTICALLY GREETED "OLIVER."

Just as James W. Osborne entered Mr. Wood sharply rebuked a reporter who asked a question. Mr. Osborne looked as though he thought the rebuke were intended for him. Then he passed slowly along the line looking each man in the eye until he reached Wax.

SANTA LEAVES $2,800,000 AT GUARANTY TRUST CO.

Stockholders Get $2,500,000 and $300,000 Goes to Employees, Who Also Get Bonuses.

Santa Claus took possession of the Guaranty Trust Company's offices at No. 110 Broadway three weeks ahead of schedule time to-day and, before the old saint called it a morning's work he had cut up $2,800,000 in Christmas presents.

Everybody from the president to the scrub woman came in for a part in the Christmas present proceedings. The big gift came to the stockholders who held the $20,000,000 of stock. They got a dividend amounting to a special cash dividend of twelve and one-half per cent. This accounted for $2,500,000 of the money scattered.

Then along came $300,000 in cash as a special collective present for the 1,000 men and women employed in the big institution, in addition to the regular bonus.

FIRE IN BROOKLYN MENACES ENTIRE FULTON ST. BLOCK

Two Storage Warehouse Buildings Destroyed, With Loss of $100,000.

20 FIREMEN IN PERIL.

Have Narrow Escape When Wall Collapses Near Them—Smoke Fills "L" Trains.

The two buildings of the Fulton-Flatbush Storage Warehouse Company at Nos. 427-435 Carlton Avenue, Brooklyn, were destroyed by fire this morning, and for a time it seemed as if the entire block, bounded by Atlantic and Carlton Avenues and Fulton and Adelphi Streets, would be swept.

Prompt work of the Fire Department, under Chief Lally, saved the adjoining buildings. The F. G. Smith-Bradbury piano warehouse, Nos. 774-778 Fulton Street, caught at the top, but the fire was extinguished before any considerable damage was done.

The buildings of the N. S. Scott Co. and William J. Kelly were scorched and suffered from water. The estimated loss is $100,000.

Edward Williams, a plasterer, living at No. 440 Carlton Avenue, on his way to work at 7:30 o'clock, saw smoke coming out of the windows on the first floor of the Fulton-Flatbush Warehouse building. He ran into the building, where twelve men were at work, yelling fire.

In less than half an hour after the first alarm was turned in the walls crumbled and fell in from the roof to the first floor.

Dense smoke rolled into Fulton Street, filling the cars of several elevated lines, to and from New York. Notwithstanding the smoke and embers, there was no interference with the "L" traffic. The surface cars were switched into Flatbush Avenue, below the fire, and traffic interrupted only for a short time.

Twenty firemen, under Battalion Chief Richard Marshall of the Thirty-fourth battalion, had a narrow escape, when the north wall of the warehouse fell in.

At nine thirty, two hours after the fire was discovered, Chief Lally declared the flames under control.

MOYER MADE WARDEN OF SING SING PRISON

Appointee Had Charge of Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta for Twelve Years.

ALBANY, Dec. 6.—The appointment of William H. Moyer, for twelve years Warden of the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., as Warden of Sing Sing Prison was announced to-day by the State Superintendent of Prisons, James M. Carter.

Under his administration stripes and the lockstep were abolished, a prison band was formed, a six club prison baseball league organized and the dining hall, where prisoners had their meals on benches in silence, was arranged as a hotel dining room.

He has always been known as a strict disciplinarian, and his action in putting prisoners who had deceived him in solitary cells caused an investigation by Congress in 1914 which resulted in his complete vindication.

SIX HURT IN AUTO MISHAPS DUE TO GALE FROM WEST

Clarence Mackay's Car Runs Down Man at Fifth Avenue and Thirtieth Street.

The blustering westerly winds which swept the streets in day, redoubled into miniature tornadoes about the bases of the taller skyscrapers, caused numerous accidents to persons who lowered their heads to look at the gale and failed to keep a lookout for vehicles.

Clarence Mackay's automobile, driven by his chauffeur, James Gilmore of No. 101 Dresden Street, Brooklyn, knocked down Abraham Sider, a tall, or of No. 2142 Seventh Street, at Fifth Avenue and Thirtieth Street. One of Sider's ribs was broken.

Philip Forde, six years old, of No. 105 West Third Street, was struck by an automobile owned by Leopold Davis of No. 135 West Twenty-ninth Street, and taken to St. Vincent's Hospital with a scalp wound and a broken collar bone. Mark Meyers, the chauffeur, was not arrested. The accident occurred in front of No. 191 West Third Street.

Frank Matulio, six years old, of No. 596 East One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, was struck on the face by a car at Second Avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street by a motor car driven by Philip Adelstein of No. 424 East One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, resulting in a scalp cut over the eye.

Paul Crane, of No. 128 West One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, was run into by an automobile as he alighted from a car at One Hundred and Forty-ninth Street and Third Avenue. The driver of the automobile was William Egan, of No. 49 East One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street. Egan was taken to Lincoln Hospital with fractured head and back.

MACKENSEN GRIP ON BUCHAREST IS CLOSED VERY FAST

Big Headway by Germans North and South of Bucharest, Russia Admits.

ODESSA NOW THE GOAL.

Teutons Aim to Strike Northward to Russian Port After Taking Bucharest.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Bucharest has been captured. The announcement is made officially in Berlin.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 6.—Continued German attacks on Bucharest from the north, made in the direction of Targoviste, in the Polesht region and around Dobanesti, were successful, the official statement declared to-day. Because the Roumanian front was pierced by this attack the Roumanians were compelled to retire.

BERLIN (via Sayville wireless), Dec. 6.—Further large captures of prisoners and war materials in Roumania was announced in to-day's official statement.

Field Marshal von Mackensen's troops approached the railway line running northward from Bucharest to Plouesti, causing the Roumanians to evacuate their positions north of Sinala. South of Bucharest the Teutonic troops have occupied other towns along the River Alt, and are advancing toward the Roumanian capital. More than 6,000 Roumanians were captured yesterday.

WITH THE GERMAN ARMY AT PITESTI, Roumania, Dec. 5 (via Berlin and Sayville wireless, Dec. 6).—Bucharest's fate is a matter of only a few days. Desperate resistance by the Roumanians can only delay occupation of the capital.

To an observer of this great German achievement in Roumania the goal of offensive in the movement now approaching its climax is not Bucharest alone. Germany's object is first to destroy the Roumanian army, preparatory to a march toward Russia, with perhaps Odessa as the final goal.

To-day's (Dec. 5) operations are expected to sow up three holes, forcing the Roumanians either to defend Bucharest from the north or evacuate their capital.

(Since the above was written, Russia has admitted the failure of the effort to strike toward the Danube, and it is now known that the "three holes" mentioned have been sewed up by the consolidation of the Teutonic forces under supreme command of Mackensen.)

I have visited two battlefields shortly after the fighting. The Roumanian losses in dead and wounded were staggering, while some German regiments finished the battles with only seven to eighty-three killed. In the same battle the Roumanians lost from 500 to 700 dead and wounded per regiment, with an almost equal number of prisoners.

The momentum which the German offensive has already gained, with the strong forces on route, cannot be halted by Roumania.

Stockings Must Come Down or the Prices Will Go Up.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Stockings must come down or the price will go up. So say western knitters who plan to save a few cents per pair by increasing by bringing the 100 thread to 120 thread.

Congress Will Direct Rigid Food Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Resolution, introduced by Senator Charles McNary, directing the Federal Trade Commission to investigate production, marketing and distribution of food products.

KING TRIES TO RECONCILE BRITISH MINISTRY FACTIONS; CALLS ASQUITH AND CABINET

Both Bonar Law and Lloyd George Told Sovereign They Would Have Great Difficulty in Framing New Ministry—Conference Follows.

TALK THAT ASQUITH MAY BE BACK BEFORE LONG

LONDON, Dec. 6.—A. Bonar Law to-day declined the invitation of King George to undertake the formation of a new ministry and the King then sent for David Lloyd George, who is believed, like Mr. Law, to have informed the Sovereign of the difficulties which he would have to face if he undertook the construction of a cabinet.

This afternoon the King initiated negotiations in the hope of composing the differences among the members of the Asquith administration, Mr. Asquith and all the other members being summoned to Buckingham palace.

WILLIAM SIMPSON, THE PAWNBROKER, DIES IN 80TH YEAR

His Chief Hobby Was Breeding Fine Horses—Owned John R. Gentry.

William Simpson, the pawnbroker, died at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, No. 960 Bryant Avenue, the Bronx, but the fact did not become known to many of his friends until to-day. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street and Fifth Avenue, and the interment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

He came of a long line of loan brokers, his grandfather being the first to establish the business in this country. This was in 1822, the location being the site of the present eastern exit from the Brooklyn Bridge in Park Row.

Mr. Simpson, who would have been eighty had he lived until next May, died of old age, according to the employees to his establishment at No. 91 Park Row. He had not been at this office, nor the one at No. 151 Broadway, which was opened in 1891, since last July.

Mr. Simpson, who was a veteran of the Seventh Regiment, was born at No. 227 William Street in the rear of the Park Row store. He leaves two sons, William J. and Frederick B. All his life Mr. Simpson was keenly interested in horse-breeding, and his stud farm at Cuba, New York, was one of the most noted in the country. He was always ready to expend thousands of dollars in the improvement of his string of stallions and his purchase of Minkney for $50,000 created a sensation in the world of sportmen. He was also owner of Asquith, for which he paid $28,000. At one time he owned the renowned John R. Gentry, which he sold for $19,500.

It is not believed probable Lloyd George would have any more success with the Labor Members than did Bonar Law, the Parliamentary correspondents say, while the attitude
